Mr. Gowers,

I just tried your phone, and I'm sorry if I reached you at a bad time. I found the number on the EPA website. At any rate, I'm a contractor that specializes in grouting/closure of abandoned mines. We are based in Pennsylvania and work heavily for various state environmental agencies. I was informed of your Ringwood project by an engineering company whom we've worked with over the years. I was calling to see how I would get on your list of contractors for this project. I'm also curious as to whether you'll be advancing to the construction phase soon.

Again, I'm sorry if I came off as a salesman, junk call, or otherwise bothered you. We are very experienced in grouting for different purposes, in varying geologic conditions, and using a variety of grout materials. We have a full staff of professional geologists and engineers and are considered a leader in this field. In the past year alone, we have produced and placed over 300,000 CY of grout in various abandoned mines from Pennsylvania to Wyoming.

I hope that we can be of assistance to you on this project.

Sincerely,

Frank Howard III
